

Up the Ivory Tower

'Up the Ivory Tower' is a series of ten 10-minute radio programmes discussing what it's like to study at University as an external student.

The new programme, hosted by Frances Rowlands, of Murdoch's External Studies Unit, goes to air on 6UVS-FM at 10:45 a.m. each Thursday through to October 22.

The programme is about, and for, external students. Frances invites external students to telephone or write in between programmes about their difficulties with studying and about approaches to study that have worked for them.

Frances, Education Officer in the ESU and co-author of the forthcoming book 'A Guide to Learning Independently', is happy to discuss questions and suggestions from external students.

So tune in to this chance to share your learning with fellow external students — 6UVS-FM, Thursdays at 10.45 a.m.